

Khamteune KEOHAVONG

Microbiologist, Public Health, Food and Drug Control, and Intellectual Property Right Specialist

Position: Senior Consultant

Nationality: Lao

Education and training:

- Bachelor of Biology general from “University Komensky Bratislava” (Slovakia Republic) Faculty of Natural Science- 1979- 1985
- Master of Biology (Microbiology) from “University Komensky Bratislava” (Slovakia Republic), Faculty of Natural Science- 1985- 1987
- Genetic Engineering Technology by using and isolated DNA from micro-organism, in the Laboratory of Metabolic Engineering of Korean Research Institute of Bioscience and Biotechnology (KRIBB)- 2001-2002.
- Microbiological and chemical analysis of food and drug contamination in Medical Science Laboratory at Nonthabury Thailand- 1999.
- Good Manufacture Practice (GMP) and quality control of food and drug, supported by Japan Pharmaceutical Manufacture Association (JPMA), at laboratory of EISIA Co., Ltd. -1995.
- Intellectual property right protection in terms of trademark, patent and copyright, National Authority for Science and Technology- 2008.

Key Qualification:

Mr. Khamteune KEOHAVONG is a senior consultant with 21 years experience in working with various Government Organizations, as well as with International Donors, State and Private enterprises; in the field of public health, food and drug and water quality control, research on pro-biotic bacteria and micro-organism, biochemical, biological and micro-biological analysis in laboratory, intellectual property measures against infringement.